

OUR PROMISE

Stronger and inclusive voices in decisions about land and water
Knowledge to claim environmental rights

Livelihoods that last sustainably

Justice for pastoralists

TOGETHER FOR JUSTICE AND SUSTAINABILITY

*"We defend our land.
We defend our people.
We defend our future"*

OUR CONTACTS

Furaha Estate, Nturukuma,
P.O Box 1899-10400, Nanyuki

(+254) 702 624 224

pastoralistpeoplesinitiative@gmail.com

www.pastoralistspeoplesinitiative.org

OUR SOCIALS

pastoralistpeoplesinitiative

PPI
INDIGENOUS KNOWLEDGE SYSTEM AND AGROECOLOGY

www.pastoralistspeoplesinitiative.org

PRESERVING AND APPLYING ANCESTRAL WISDOM

Traditional pastoralist practices hold time-tested strategies for climate adaptation and ecosystem balance. We partner with elders and youth to document, celebrate, and innovate these practices – ensuring they continue to guide land management, cultural rituals, and social cohesion.

HOW WE DO IT

- Cultural Festivals:
Showcases of food, music, crafts, and oral history.
- Lunar & Grazing Calendars:
Community-driven guides for pasture cycles and medicinal harvests
- Knowledge Documentation: Video and audio archiving of rituals, stories, and ecological insights and medicinal harvests

PPI'S STAND

Founded in 2020 as a Community Based Organization (CBO), Pastoralist Peoples' Initiative (PPI) transitioned into a registered charity in 2023. Since its inception, PPI has been dedicated to empowering and supporting indigenous pastoralist communities in Kenya. We recognize the vital role these communities play in stewarding vast landscapes, preserving unique knowledge systems, and adapting to complex challenges like climate change. PPI is a member of the Pastoralist Alliance for Resilience and Adaptation Across Nations (PARAAN), Grassroots Justice Network, and Indigenous Women Council (IWC)

WHY IT MATTERS

Climate change is drying our land
Droughts and floods threaten lives
Pollution poisons our water and health

"When the land suffer, we all suffer"